

End of Year Newsletter

Message from the Headteacher

It has been a busy end to the year. We would like to share some of our highlights with you, some chosen by our Teaching Assistants and some chosen by our children. My own personal highlight has to be our first ever end of year Art Exhibition. The launch was attended by many of our friends from The Trust and was opened by The Mayor of Southwark, Charlie Smith. The children's art works showed how through their experiences working to create art they can experience beauty.

Some of the Children's Summer Term Highlights

Looking after our ducklings!

Molly thought the ducklings were a highlight of the Summer Term. "My highlight was bathing the ducks and being able to hold them and look after them."

Learning circus skills with Nick!

Jack's highlight this term has been "doing circus activities with Nick. He is a very funny and talented man. He is also a great teacher because he always gets us to try new and harder things. I can juggle with three balls now!"

Being creative with cartoonist Richy Chandler!

One of Miracle's highlights: "I really liked mashing all the animals together in my cartoon. I created the Kittycorn, a mash up between a unicorn and a cat with Richy."

Summer Term Highlights from our Teaching Assistants

City of London Sinfonia

Evelina Hospital School's Teaching Assistants had lots of Summer Term highlights: Mira's highlight as always was having musicians from the City of London Sinfonia with us every Wednesday afternoon. "These wonderful musicians always manage to engage all of our children."

Readathon/Read for Good

Nicola's Summer Term highlight was opening yet another big box of books from the charity Readathon, now known as Read for Good. She was also very excited about a visit from the children's author Tracey Corderoy.

Hatching Ducklings!

Doreen's highlight was watching our ducklings hatch in school! "It was a very special moment to see the ducklings break out of their eggs."

Butterflies

Almaz's highlight this term was our beautiful butterflies. "It was great for the children to see the transformation and metamorphosis from caterpillar to butterfly. All the children in the school rooms and on ward were really interested."

Cartoon Workshops

Agron's highlight this term was Richy Chandler's fabulous cartoon workshops. Jack was pleased to hear Richy was coming as he remembered him as being "The man who made drawing easy." We all agree with him there!

End of Term

Our last day of term will be Friday 21 July. We look forward to welcoming you back to school on Monday 4 September for another term packed with amazing activities.
